

Setting your service area

Your pin is where you work from. Your circle is how far you go. Owners decide whether to call from those two things.

Make the circle honest.

Too small and you miss work you would have driven to. Too big and you spend the day turning people down.

Saving confirms it.

Every month or so the profile asks whether your pin is still right. Pressing Save changes is the answer, and it keeps you on the map.

1 Sign in and open your profile.

Go to yellowpagesrv.com, press Sign in, then the green Face ID or fingerprint button if you have set one up, or type your email and use the code or link that arrives.

 Help

Tech sign in

No password. Your face or fingerprint if you have set that up, or your email and a link or a code.

Sign in with Face ID or fingerprint

One touch, nothing typed, if you set up a passkey on this device. Not inside Facebook's or Instagram's own browser, and best not on a shared computer.

or with your email

The email you signed up with

Continue

Not signed up yet? Sign up.

Map Terms Privacy For technicians

Powered by SKILL ABOVE

Feedback

2 Scroll to Your technicians and where they work. Type your town or zip under Which town is this and pick it from the list.

The pin lands there. What owners see fills in from the town; change it if a region reads better, like Central Florida.

not a place you sometimes park, so put each one where that technician actually works from. If somebody is off, or a pin is spare, switch that one off rather than leaving it on the map for an owner to call.

Technician 1 Show on map

Which town is this

Type the town or your zip code and pick from the list, and the pin lands there. A zip drops the pin in the middle of the zip and names the nearest town, because a town name is what owners type. Every town

Save changes See my listing

See my page Something wrong?

3 Drag the pin to exactly where you work from.

Press and hold it on the map, then move it. Pinch to zoom in first if you need to.

not a place you sometimes park, so put each one where that technician actually works from. If somebody is off, or a pin is spare, switch that one off rather than leaving it on the map for an owner to call.

Technician 1 Show on map

Which town is this

Oklahoma City, OK

Type the town or your zip code and pick from the list, and the pin lands there. A zip drops the pin in the middle of the zip and names the nearest town, because a town name is what owners type. Every town

Save changes See my listing

See my page Something wrong?

4 Type how far you travel, in miles.

How far you travel for a repair draws the circle owners see. For an inspection can be further, since those are booked ahead; leave it empty if it is the same.

several technicians spread out it is the difference between moving Frank's pin and moving Mark's by mistake.

What owners see

Oklahoma City, OK

This fills in from the town you picked and that is fine to leave alone. Worth changing if a region reads better than one town, like North Georgia or Central Florida, because plenty of owners search that way. Pick a new town above and this follows it, so check it after you move.

On your listing this reads: Oklahoma City, OK · 40 mile radius

How far you travel for a repair (miles)

40

Be honest with this. An owner broken down on the roadside calls you because your circle said you cover them. If the answer is that you cannot get there for five hours, or you do not work that area, they have wasted their time and you have wasted yours. Set it to what you actually do.

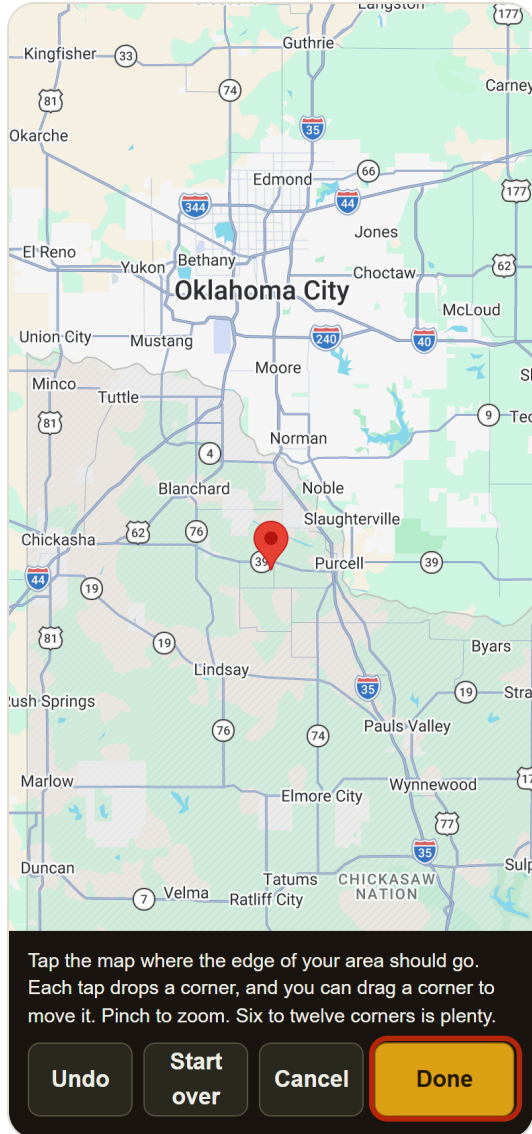

How far you travel for an inspection (miles)

Save changes See my listing

See my page Something wrong?

5 If a circle promises the wrong thing, press Draw the area on the map instead.

A mountain pass, or a state line you are not licensed across. Tap the map where each corner of your area goes, six to twelve corners, then Done.

6 Press Save changes.

The pin, the circle and the towns on your page all change at once. If the profile says your pin and your town label are far apart, it asks once whether that is what you meant.

? Still stuck?

Your town not in the list? Type your zip code instead. Business plan with several technicians: each one has their own pin and circle on this card. Anything else, write to support@yellowpagesrv.com.